SCHOOL OF DATA SCIENCE

Updates from the Director

Graduation is less than a month away! We hope that all of your semesters are going well and coming to a successful conclusion. This edition finds us visiting with another distinguished alumni- Kim Harris HIA '15. Focus information on campus resources, our last Monday SDS Seminar for spring, and the launch of our bi-annual alumni survey. As always we invite you to contribute updates and news regarding happenings in the data science and health analytics community!

Summer and Fall 2023 Assistantship Applications Open

Each semester the School of Data Science awards a number of assistantships to support SDS graduate and undergraduate academic programs. Assistantships are usually in one of two forms: Instructional Assistants or Teaching Assistants. Only students enrolled in an SDS program can apply for SDS-funded assistantships. Even if you currently hold an assistantship, you must reapply to be considered for placement next summer or fall.

Student Resources

As part of our efforts to highlight campus resources available to SDS students we have links to three campus units that may be helpful to you in your time at UNC Charlotte:

- UNC Charlotte Student Legal Services, Inc. \(SLS\): UNC Charlotte Student Legal Services, Inc. (SLS) provides free legal advice, limited representation, and resources to enrolled students. SLS is also available for presentations to student organizations and classes to educate students on their rights and responsibilities under the law. This service is paid through your student activity fee and services are provided free of charge.
- Veteran Services: Charlotte's Veterans Services Office is dedicated to the support and success of our military-affiliated student body. From processing GI Bill® benefits to providing the Veteran Student Lounge for study and community, the VSO is the central hub at Charlotte to promote a smooth and seamless transition for those choosing college after or during their service.
- University Ombuds: For Graduate students only, the Ombuds program at UNC Charlotte is a confidential, independent, impartial, and informal resource to informally work through challenging workplace problems, dilemmas and conflicts. The University Ombuds uses a number of interest-based techniques to help prevent problems from escalating and empower productive, collaborative solutions.
